

Powerline Plus is Committed to Quality

“Do it right the first time!”

Powerline Plus Ltd. is committed to providing outstanding workmanship, quality, performing work correctly the first time and outstanding project execution go hand in hand. Therefore, quality is a core component within our culture and critical to our success. This Quality Policy applies to all Powerline Plus Ltd. employees and contractors working for or on behalf of Powerline Plus Ltd.

As leaders at Powerline Plus Ltd. and signees to this document, we commit to comply with all construction standards applicable to our projects. Powerline Plus Ltd.’s quality requirements will be integrated in our culture, management and decision-making processes across all stages of project planning and execution.

We are committed to demonstrating leadership through our actions.

Our personal commitments:

- We will plan to make sure that work can be executed properly the first time
- We will always make sure employees have the skills, resources, direction, equipment and training required to execute their work
- We will plan and execute quality work while never compromising safety or any of the commitments outlined in the health and safety policy
- We will ensure that we fully understand and comply with the specific requirements outline by each client that Powerline Plus Ltd. is executing work for
- We will ensure that work is executed on time and a quality result is delivered
- We will identify and report any quality concerns, deficiencies or non-conformances and act promptly on rectifying them
- We will investigate quality issues and share lessons learned to prevent their re-occurrence
- We will actively participate in the continual improvement of Powerline Plus Ltd.’s Quality Management System
